

Easter egg hunt + Coconut Boat Races + opti sailing = Easter in Bequia

Description

So we have been slacking in getting some posts up.... Our adventure is near its end with Salmagal getting hauled out on April 22nd. Our focus has been maximizing our time together as a family in the short time we have left and the blog was left in the dust. We have a ton of content to post, and will be doing so soon, but for now check out pictures of our Easter in Bequia!
